

Canadian Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry 30th Annual Conference

2010 Theme Child and Adolescent Psychiatry Grows Up: Progress, the Profession and the People we Treat

Accreditation

This event is an accredited group learning activity (section 1) as defined by the Maintenance of Certification Program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, approved by the Canadian Psychiatric Association. The specific opinions and content of this event are not necessarily those of the CPA, and are the responsibility of the organizer(s) alone.

Conference Learning Objectives

- To learn about challenges faced by child psychiatrists as we officially become a sub-specialty of psychiatry in Canada
- To update participants regarding recent research and clinical findings associated with various child psychiatric conditions
- To update participants regarding new evidence-based treatments of various child psychiatric conditions

Message from the President

Dear Colleagues:

As we participate in this, our 30th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Canadian Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, we can reflect on the diversity of our field. Three decades of growth have brought about an Academy that is confident and capable. The program shows all this and more.

Just prior to last year's meeting, we entered a new future with the Royal College creating an official subspecialty of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. The Academy will now create an additional Full Member by certification category to reflect this growth and to maintain itself as the home for all psychiatrists in Canada with an interest and practice in the mental health of Canadian children and youth. This developmental marker for our Academy is new to all of us, even though we have sought the privilege for many years. This year's Town Hall meeting will bring us up to date on everything we want to know about sub speciality status, and more, as we enter the new decade.

Diversity is a hall mark of Toronto, our host city, the Academy and this year's meeting. Diversity appears as topics that range from the molecular (genetic, pharmacological and metabolic) through to global mental health and from the individual in therapy to the adversity and resilience of childhood. In keeping with the opportunity for certification, it is very fitting that one symposium will invite us to consider the future of child psychiatry and prepare us for new directions. As usual, not only will there be first class presentations, there will be the renewal of friendships and the tradition of collegiality welcoming newcomers.

Conferences that are well run and bring excellent learning opportunities are not accidental. I invite all of us to remind those whose leadership efforts made it happen, of our appreciation. Three key leaders are Katharina Manassis MD and Margaret Weiss MD, Chair and Co-Chair of the Research and Scientific Program Committee and Tony Pignatiello MD, Chair of the Local Arrangements Committee. As they will no doubt remind us, their work could only be successful with the support they had from their committees and support staff. These people have labored behind the scenes attending to details that most of us may never notice. In particular, thanks are due to Elizabeth Waite, Executive Director of our Academy, and Rachel Marten-Delaney administrative assistant to Drs. Manassis and Pignatiello.

Thank you to all who have planned and participated in this conference and may all who attend enjoy another great three days in Toronto.

Wade Junek MD, FRCPC

Message from the Local Arrangements Committee

Welcome back to Toronto for the 30th Annual Conference of the Canadian Academy of Child & Adolescent Psychiatry. The Westin Harbour Castle will bring you to life by the lake, while still providing easy access to the city. The Local Arrangements Committee is assembling the 2010 version of "Play Therapy" as your guide to highlights in and around Toronto. We will continue with a green approach to conference bags, with one change.....conference bags will be optional but available upon request. Pianist Pascal Du Perron will provide the music for the combined President's Reception and Poster session. Make sure to come by the Resident-Faculty Cinq-a-Sept, and look for the reception for international attendees. There will be several ways of registering for this year's conference, for your convenience. Enjoy the conference and your stay with us.

Chair, Local Arrangements Committee*

Message from the Chair Scientific Program Committee

Welcome to the 30th annual meeting of the Canadian Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry! We hope it offers opportunities to learn, exchange ideas, and connect with colleagues from around the country. We extend a special welcome to our members in training, who represent the future of our profession.

This year's meeting falls on the heels of the Canadian Psychiatric Association (CPA) meeting and, consistent with this opportunity to interact with our colleagues working with adults, it is entitled "Child Psychiatry Grows Up: Progress, the Profession, and the People we Treat". The emphasis on the child psychiatrist as professional is particularly relevant as we are becoming a subspecialty of psychiatry in Canada, and a number of presentations this year are relevant to that theme. Nevertheless, we continue to strive for excellence in presenting leading edge research (the "Progress") and in creating a program that is highly relevant to your clinical practice (the "People we Treat").

We tried to retain opportunities for informal interaction during the meeting, which were so welcome last year. We formalized two more special interest groups: one in Inpatient Psychiatry; the other in Consultation-Liaison Psychiatry, to allow for further discussions that don't fit neatly within the criteria for symposia or workshops. We have added an "Ask the Expert" event to allow you to pick the brain of an expert clinician, evaluated highly last year. If you have further suggestions for improving future meetings, please do not hesitate to let us know.

Finally, we are privileged to host this meeting in Toronto, the bustling, multicultural capital of Ontario. Toronto has events and attractions for every member of the family, so enjoy!

*With best wishes,
Katharina Manassis, MD, FRCPC
Chair, Research and Scientific Program Committee*
